LIEUT. GREELY FOUND.

General Logan, Republican candidate for Only Six Out of Twenty-five Men Brought Back Alive.

Dispatches received by the secretary of the navy and General Hazen at Washington from Licutenant Greely and Commander Schley announced the safe arrival of the Greely Relief expedition at St. Johns, N. F.

Lieutenant Emory, with the Pear, has supported me broughout with great skillfulness and unflinching readiness in accomplishing the great duty of relieving Greely. I would ask instruction ab ut the Lock Garry, as the charter party held by her master differs in several respects from mine. The Greely party are very much improved since their rescue, but were critical in the extreme when found and for several days after. Forty-eight hours' delay in reaching them would have been fatal to all now living. The season north is late and the closest for years. Smith's sound was not open when I left Cape Sabine. The winter about Melville bay was the mes, severe for twenty years. This great result is entirely due to the unwearred energy of yourself and the secretary o war in fitting out this expedition for the work it has had the honor to accomplish.

their sufferings. The party on the ice looked as if they could not live five hours, they looked so feeble, notwithstanding the almost superhuman strength they had shown when we reached them. Slow ly, one by one, seventeen of the party had yielded up their lives to the demon Starvation. One of them, the strongest, had gone sealhunting. He never returned. He was drowned while trying to get to a seal before it reached the edge of a floe upon which they were. He missed his footing, fell into a seam in the ice and was seen no more. We encountered a gale day before yester-day which was so furious that the Alert separated from us in it. Greely, in his report to me, said that on August 9, 1883, he abandoned Fort Conger. They traveled northerly, and, after considerable privation and suffering from the cold, reached Baird Inlet on September 29. There was no one in the party who was not in full possession of health, and, excepting their isolated position, everything from Lieutenant Greely at St. Johns: "Brainard, Beirderback, Connell, Fredericks, Long, myself, sole survivors, arrived bere to day, having been rescued at the point of death from starvation by relief ships The tis and Bear June 22 at Camp Clay, northwest of Cape Sabine. All are now in good health, but weak. I abandoned Fort Conger August 9, and was frozen in the pack off Victoria Head August 29; abandoned steam launch September 11, eleven miles north-east of Cocked Hat island. When on the point of landing we were three times driven southwest by storms into Kane's sea. Finally in 1848, arrive 1 September 29 in Baird inlet. Inventory showed that by daily ration, four and one-third ounces meat, seven of bread and dog biscuits and four ounces of miscellaneous, the party would have ten days' full rations left for crossing Smith Sound to Littleton island up to March 1.

Unfortunately Smith Sound remained open the entire winter, rendering crossing impossible. Game failed, despite daily hunting from early February. Before the sun re-turned only 500 pounds of meat could be obtained. During this year minute shrimps, seaweed, sassafras, rock lichens and sealskin were resorted to for food, with results as shown in the number of survivors. The last regular food was issued May 14. Only 150 pounds of meat having been left by Garlington, compelled me to send in November four men to obtain 144 pounds of Engish meat at Isabella. During the trip Ellison froze solid both hands and feet, and lost them, surviving, however, through our terrible winter and spring, until July 8. The survivors owe their lives to the indomitable energy of Captain Schley and Lieutenant Emory, who, pre eded by three and accompani d by five whalers, forced their vessels from Upernavik, through Melville bay, into North Water at Cape York with the foremost whaler. TWENTY-FIVE DEAD.

A Fatal Accident on an English Railway.

The axle of the engine attached to the express train on the Manchester and Sheffield railway broke near Penniston, and the train jumped the track and fell from a bridge which it was on at the time. Twenty-five persons were killed and forty others more or less seriously injured. The scenes underneath the bridge after the train had fallen were most terrible to witness. The carriages were reduced almost to splinters. The groans of the men and the shrieks of the women and children were heartrending in the extreme. Some delay was experienced before the victims could be extricated from the wreck.

A Decided Hint.

Sometimes girls know how to keep themselves from being bored even by a lover. Sis and Tom were sitting in the parlor, and she was getting sleepy." 'What time is it?" she asked. He looked five minutes of eleven; and just then being struck with an idea, he asked, "Why Washington, D. C.; married; born at is my watch like you, my pet?" "I don't know." "Because it is very pretty," he replied. "And why is my watch like you?" she asked." I don't HAMPDEN S. GARDINER, sergeant Signal know, I'm sure. Why is your watch like Corps, Philadelphia, Pa.; unmarried; born | me, my dear?" "Because it won't go," she replied with a yawn. Then the young went home.

-American women are said to be the most clever active and energetic to be found; and well they need to be, considering the enormous demands made upon them by modern schools, housekeeping and society. Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, in preparing her Vegetable Compound, had in mind all these countless demands on a woman's strength, and her well-known remedy proves every day its perfect adaptation to woman's special needs. An old writer said: "Silence never betrayed any one." But he is mistaken. Silence betrays a two-year old baby every
